Capitol & USA Games Final Leg Ceremony – June 3 in Sacramento

Law Enforcement Torch Run Overview

Special Olympics is the charity of choice for Law Enforcement worldwide, partnering to raise awareness and funds to benefit the lives of all Special Olympics athletes. Known honorably as “Guardians of the Flame,” law enforcement members and Special Olympics athletes carry the torch, the Flame of Hope, into the Opening Ceremony of competitions, symbolizing courage and championing acceptance and inclusion for people with intellectual disabilities.

In Northern California, more than 3,500 law enforcement personnel from over 250 different agencies participate in the Torch Run. Spanning a two-week period, the run passes through 39 counties and more than 180 different cities, generating significant visibility and fostering community engagement throughout our footprint.
